IHM CORE VALUES (ENTREPRENEURSHIP)

MS. QUINTINA FERNANDES, SR. LECTURER

Entrepreneurship

Entrepreneurship is as much a potential contributor to all-round integral human flourishing as it is to economic growth and development.

It is to discover how to build, market, and grow a side-business that can change the moral landscape. Become a producer, not a consumer, of things that better the world we live in and brings others to the joy of knowing and loving.

It gives rise to a "sense of responsibility" which is both an individual virtue and a social virtue. Other virtues include "diligence, industriousness, prudence in undertaking reasonable risks, reliability and fidelity in interpersonal relationships. Courage in carrying out decisions, which are difficult but necessary, for the overall working of a business and in meeting possible set-backs.
